

The Great Race

State of the Union Address

Language Arts Activity

Students will write a brief speech for the president to share at his first State of the Union Address. This can be done as a group or each student can write their own. Students can share their speeches with the rest of the class.

